

Photonics 4 European Products of the Future Workshop

The Irish Photonics Integration Centre (IPIC) will host its annual Industry Workshop on the 5th of March 2020 at Tyndall National Institute in Cork, Ireland.

The event will bring together researchers from industry and academia to hear the latest developments in photonics technology, including integration, packaging, and systems development. Targeting many applications including optical communications, displays, sensing and medical devices.

The workshop will include a poster and networking session – interested? please email info@ipic.ie

